LARC
LIBRARY & ACADEMIC RESOURCE CENTER

What is the LARC?

LARC is a facility on all MACC Campuses that combines both the library and academic resource center so as to create the ultimate learning environment for MACC students, faculty, and staff. LARC provides access to all Library materials, access to computers and printers as well as the expertise of academic tutors who are available on a daily basis to help students with projects, studying, and homework.

LARC Services

*In order to use all library services, a current student ID is required. *

Book Access:

MACC Web Cat and MOBIUS:

The LARC provides access to two different library catalogs from which students can search for and request library books. All books have a three week check out limit.

The MACC Web Cat, is an online tool that allows students to search for and request books within the MACC catalog only. Each MACC location has a collection of books available to students.

MOBIUS is a consortium that allows students to search for and request library books from other public and academic libraries. In order to use MOBIUS, a student must know the MACC ID number, and group name, or cluster name. MACC's cluster name is: LANCE

When placing a request for materials through MOBIUS, the student username will be their first and last name while the password will be the student's ID number with two zeros (00) in front and "macc" written at the end. Refer to the example below:

Example: Username: Maria Parker
        Password: 00170950macc

All library books can be delivered to the MACC location in which the student attends. Students can access MOBIUS through the library website or by visiting this link http://searchmobius.org/

Fiction/ Non-Fiction Collection: the LARC has a small fiction collection. This collection is based upon literary classics that are most often read in literature classes at MACC. The library also has a non-fiction collection that holds books based on hundreds of academic subjects students might consider when conducting research for class projects.

Reference/ Newspaper/ Periodicals: the LARC in Moberly has a designated room with several kinds of reference materials ranging from encyclopedias, dictionaries, maps, and even daily/monthly newspapers and periodicals. These materials cannot be checked out as they are considered "library use only" materials.

Ebooks: the LARC provides access to ebooks through EBSCO eBooks. To access these materials, you will go to the LARC website, choose EBSCO EBooks and enter in your student number and password to log in.

Text Books on loan (library use only): Students are able to borrow textbooks from the LARC at all locations, but must show a valid form of identification in order to do so. All text books must be used in the LARC.

EBSCO Discovery Service (EDS):

EBSCO Discovery Service, new to the library in 2016, provides up-to-date relevancy ranked information across ALL the electronic databases offered by the MACC Library. Access to 18 EBSCO Complete and 6 Gale databases, plus Films on Demand, as well as MACC books and ebooks is provided with one search via EDS.

EBSCO:

EBSCO in EDS offers access to many different databases:

- Academic Search Complete
- Associate Programs Source
- Book Collection Nonfiction
- Business and Company ASAP
- Business Source Premier
- Child Development & Adolescent Studies
- CINAHL Plus with Full Text
- Environment Complete
- ERIC
- Garden, Landscape, & Horticulture Index
- Humanities International Complete
- Left Index
- Library Information Science & Technology Abstracts with Full Text
- Medline
- Professional Development Collection (Education)

GALE in Context in EDS:

New in 2014, these databases provide students with access to periodicals, articles, ebooks, videos, and digital images. The library currently has the following Gale databases available:

- Biography in Context
- Science in Context
- U.S. History in Context
- World History in Context
- Literature Resource Center
- Business Insights: Essentials

*Note: All students must have their student ID number and password in order to log into these databases.

Films on Demand:

This database provides students with access to films. To log into this database, students must use their MACC domain username and password. This is the same username and password students use to log into their MyMacc accounts or a campus computer system.

Computer Access:

LARC offers access to computers and Wi-Fi. Students must have a student ID and current username and password in order to use the computers in the Academic Resource Center.

Printer/Copier/Scanner Usage

If a student wants to print from a computer or make copies on our copy machine, there is a small fee. The printer copier fees are as follows:

Black and White Printer: Free with payment of technology fee when registering.

Color Printer: 35 cents per printed page (Moberly LARC)

Copier Machine: 10 cents per copy

Students may also use the LARC scanners to make copies, this service is free. Copier machines and color printers are available at each campus location, but not all machines can be found in the LARC.

Small Group Study Rooms

Small study rooms are available at most LARC locations for use by students working on group projects, or simply needing a quiet space to study.
